

Do You Have Excess Produce This Summer?

If you've grown too much produce this summer, or bought extra produce that you don't need, please consider donating it to a local food pantry! Thank you.

How did your Garden grow this summer?

If you have grown an abundance of veggies this season and have plenty to share, consider donating your excess produce to our local food pantries:

Well-Help, Inc. Choice Food Pantry, located in the basement of the United Methodist Church at 127 Park Place in Wellington, is open Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, 10:00 am – noon, and Wednesdays, 5:00pm – 7:00pm; tel. 440-647-2689.

St. Patrick Helping Hands Food Pantry is located in the old St. Patrick Church (on the corner of Adams & Main Streets). Produce can be dropped off at the church office the week before the third Saturday; tel. 440-647-4375 ext. 53.

Can't get to the food pantries when they are open? Let us help you!

Call Lorain County Office on Aging-Southern Satellite Office, 440-647-0777; or THRIVE! Southern Lorain County, 440-987-9182.

We will arrange to meet you and help you get your produce to people in need.
